FREW & CAMPBELL,

NATURDAY, JUNE 16, 1877.

THE CALDWELL'S RUN BUSINESS .- OUR friend, Mr. Goodfellow, whose communifriend, Mr. Goodicilow, wnose communi-cation appeared in yesterday morning's Capital Discussion at Buchau-mon Last Monday. issue of this paper, misunderstood our position somewhat. He interprets our language to mean that a large majority of the First Branch of Council is opposed to the straightening of the Run. In fact, however, our opinion is to the contrary; for while we are unable to speak by the card, our impression has been that the project would have received the favorable consideration of a majority of Council if the city had been financially in a condition to undertake the work, and provided, further, that a plan at once feasible and free from the multitude of after claps, too often at a late period discovered, to be the concomitants of such schemes, the plans of which have not been properly matured, and which render the first cost of an improvement a mere bagatelle conpared with the expense arising from unseen contingencies, had been adopted. The impression that we intended to convey was that a large majority of the First and a portion of the received the favorable consideration of a jority of the First and a portion of the Second Branch were opposed to committing the present Council to an endorsement of the scheme at this time, which which could be of no value whatever unless some steps were taken to actually commence the work during the life of this Council, for the very reason, as we stated, and as our correspondent well knows, that all mere resolutions expire with the Council which originates them. Therefore, unless it was designed to take some actual steps, making some actual progress in the work, or unless it was thought possible to so form the action of the present Council as to compel a future Council to go on with the

did not remain to the conclusion of the session of the Second Branch Tuesday night, we will ask our friend the ques tion. Did he move to reject or vote against the payment of other bills of the Street Commissioner for work done without an order of Council, of which there is said to have been near two thousand dollars? If he did he was consistent with himself: if he did not not where es he stand? Mr. Goodfellow professes to believe that the advocates of immediate action on the straightening project are really willing to bide the time when the city will be able to undertake the work without detriment to her financial interests, or without burdening the people with increased taxation. Will he then advocate putting upon the piling lately done at Caldwell's Run, at the in tersection with Eoff street, a good wooden bridge, such as will render that thorough fare available for the 'general use of the public? If he and a few other gentlemen that we might name will give their aid to such a measure, we believe that it will carry and such a bridge be built. A benefit would thus be conferred which a grateful public would certainly acknowledge and appreciate.

It is said to be "an ill wind that blows nobody any good," and we wish to call the attention of our friend to some suggestions in regard to the scheme of which he is an advocate, which are already the fruit of the pile driving done at the Eoff street crossing. It is already suggested that if the Run was straightened, the banks and the street could be protected effectually by this same system of pile driving, of which the work already done is a specimen; also that at the intersection Ith atreat with the atreats running north and south, it could be made available for bridge superstructures without any masonry whatever. We are informed that the City Engineer expresses the opinion that such piles as have already been driven will last twenty, or even thirty, years. If such be the case it is easy to recognize that out of this piling business, done, as it was, without an order of Council, we have gained an idea worth many thousand dollars to the city Certainly, then, it must be admitted that there is no need of such a dreadful hurry in the matter. Let us have a bridge at the present Eoff street crossing of the Run, and then give attention and thought to the greater matter of changing the course of the stream, and when we go at the work let it be upon well matured

Secretary.

F. D. Young, Esq., stated the object of the meeting, and introduced Hon. Ben. Wilson who proceeded to address the meeting in favor of Clarksburg as a permanent location for the State Capital.

His remarks were clear and convincing, and at the close the following resolutions, introduced by Capt. McEldowney, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we deem it expedient that the people of West Virginia should permanently locate their Capital at some central, eligible point which will be convenient and accessible to the great body of the people of the State.

Resolved, That in our opinion Clarksburg presents more advantages than any other point named, and we respectfully invite the voters of Wetzel county at the coming election on the 7th of August, to attend the polls and cast their votes in favor of that place.

Resolved, That the President of this meeting appoint a committee of three gentlemen in each district of the county.

BUCKHANNON, W. VA., June 12.

A mass meeting of the citizens of the county of Upshur, was held at the Court House, in this place, yesterday, to hear a discussion of the Capital question. The eligibility of Clarksburg as a location for the State Capital, was advocated by Hon. G. D. Camden and Gen. Nathan Goff, jr. Charleston was represented by Hon. R. H. Freer and Major D. D. T. Farnsworth.

was carried off by our Clarkaburg friends, who demonstrated that of the two places to be voted for, the interests of the State at large and the county of Upshur demand the location of the Capital at Clarkaburg. From the best estimate that could be made, at least three-fourths of the votes comprising the meeting were in favor of Clarkaburg, and will so vote at the ensuing election. I make the prediction that three-fourths or four-fifths of all the votes cast in this county at the coming election will be for Clarkaburg. Were it not for some prejudice engendered against Clarkaburg during the time our town was a prominent competitor for the Capital, Clarksburg during the time out.

Miss KATE Claxton has settled down for the summer at the home of her par ents, New Brunswick, N. J. She needs ents, New Brunswick, N. J. She needs a rest, she says, not so much from any arduous service during her recent professional tour as from the fatigue of reading the newspaper squibs that sprang from her fire experience. She relates to an inquisitive reporter some anecdotes that have not before found their way into print. When her agent secured the Opera-House at Indianapolis, the owner doubled his insurance, and had the whole Fire Department under orders. She had received nearly a car-load of fire-escapes, and one nearly a car-load of fire-escapes, and one partment under orders. She had received nearly a car-load of fire-escapes, and one agent made her a flattering financial offer if she would permit him to name his machine after her. Enough life-insurance pamphets and circulars have been sent her to start a papermill, and in one Western city she with great difficulty prevented a floard of enthusiastic stockholders naming their insurance company after her. When she arrived at New Brunswick, in hope of peace and quiet, after her. When she arrived at New Brunswick, in hope of peace and quiet, she was immediately waited upon by a committee from the local Fire Depart ment with a request that she would bles their engine with her name. This all seem ed hard enough, but the climax was reach ed when a World reporter sent in his card and since then she has denied herself to even members of her own family,

Dr. W. M. Taylor, in one of his Yale ctures on preaching, declared that the clamor for brevity was ruining the ser clamor for brevity was ruining the ser-mons. "No great theme," he said, "can be treated in 16 minutes. Therefore bre-vity means the banishment of doctrinal instruction and systematic exposition— and as a consequence of that, spiritual dwarfs, and a piety from which manhood has disappeared."
